Real proof of the sustainability of our teak wood

Many customers are understandably concerned about the sustainability of timbers used to make furniture. Walkham Teak Ltd has been a member of The Forest Trust since 12th April 2005. We have imported all models of our product range manufactured 100% of teak obtained from an Indonesian teak plantation forest district that is working with the TFT on a strictly controlled management programme towards independent certification. This involves an auditable trail from that forest district through the factory to the furniture in our stock and on display. Our TFT membership shows that Walkham is committed to using teak from TFT forest projects and increasing the proportion of FSC certified timber used worldwide.

The Forest Trust

The Forest Trust is a UK registered charity, founded in 1999, linking manufacturers, sellers and other timber users with sources of wood that are progressing towards full Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) certification. TFT forest projects include forest districts, whole forests and community projects both privately and government owned. All are working on certification action plans with the aim of becoming FSC certified when further progress is made and criteria met.

Walkham ready for FSC

In readiness for when our TFT source becomes FSC certified Walkham holds Chain-of-Custody certificate number SA-COC-1654-D valid until 31st October 2011.
